Stocks and Bonds.

The stock market was more attractive to Richmond investors yesterday than it has been for at least a month past, in that it showed that the bull element seems to have the best of the situation.

The New York stock market, with Union Pacific as the leader and coor-The New York stock market, with Union Pacific as the leader and cnormous transactions, this stock advanced 4 points and held its gain. Renewed efforts were current of the launching of a holding company, and much higher prices were predicted for the stock. Amalgamated Copper and Southern Pacific were also specially strong features, and the entire market responded better than thas hitherto to the great strength in Union Pacific and advances were general through the entire list. Around 2 o'clock there was some hestiancy and on heavy profit taking, and Union Pacific sold off over a point from its previous high level, but in the last half hour renewed strength and activity developed, which carried it up to the highest price of the day. The stock market entirely disregarded the grain damage reports and ignored the advance in the price of wheat.

At Chicago the market was reported as being very excited and in the early trading was up some two cents a bushel. It later lest about a cent of this gain, but continued very strong throughout.

Call money continued very easy, and the demand for time money was so slight that rates tended to sag off.

A New York authority being asked by wire yesterday to explain the Union Pacific situation, replied at some length as follows:

Various rumors are affoat regarding the Various rumors are afloat regarding the property. Many believe that the strensth in the stock foreshadows immediate steps in the formation of a holding company to take over the treasury stocks of subsidiary corporations, with consequent valuable rights to the Union Pacific stockholders. Others believe that it is merely manipulation, under Mr. Keene's adroit hand, for the purpose of the beneficial effect on the rest of the market and to force the shorts in Union Pacific to cover. It lardly seems probable to us that any holding corporations would be formed at this time. Such an outcomornight ultimatoly result from an adverse decision of the courts on the right of the Various rumors are afloat regarding th formed at this time. Such an outcome might ultimately result from an adverse decision of the courts on the right of the Union Pacific to hold Southern Pacific stock, but this would be, at best, a long way in the future, and it does not seem probable that the controlling interests in Union Pacific would at this time make such a move as the formation of a holding corporation which might in the end prove to be critically unnecessary. Whatever the cause, Union Pacific has made the substantial gain of 17 points in the past two weeks, with hardly any reaction on the way up, which shows one thing at least, and that is that there is no very large supply of stock to come out on any improvement. The advance in Union Pacific preferred was made chiefly by two traders on the floor, and was not difficult in a closely held investment stock of this startage. Its purpose may have been to lend color to the story of the holding corporation.

GETS INJUNCTION AGAINST EXCHANGE

Theodore Price Wants Cotton Classified by Different Method.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Upon application of Theodore H. Price, Justice Bischoff today granted a temporary injunction restraining the classification committee of the New York Cotton Exchange from classifying cotton by what he alleged are improper standards, Under the order of Justice Bischoff, the exchange is enjoined from classifying cotton by samples drawn from bales so long before the time of classification as to enable them to become bleached; from classifying samples, unless the bale from which they are taken can be identified; unless they are compared with proper grades, or without affording an opportunity for comparison and standards of every grade, or from classifying cotton which is unmerchantable because of sand and dirt. The order also requires the classification committee of the exchange to deliver to members of the exchange a set of the types of standards used by it in certifying and classifying cotton.

Mr. Price declared in his complaint that the classification committee classification in the classification is the descendent of the committee classification in favor of the selier. He asks that the injunction be made permanent.
